

GOALS FOR 2007!

Our campers come to us from all corners of the globe. This creates a unique opportunity to experience an international environment.

CAMP DIRECTOR. Mike Henshaw (FA London) has been the Rice University mens club soccer coach since 1981 and his record speaks for itself. Mike has led his Rice teams to 4 national playoff appearances and 5 league titles including the conference title in the fall of 2004.

Coach Mike Henshaw stresses character as the key to winning.

Coach Henshaw stresses character as the key to success on and off the field and incorporates this theme in every camp session.

The camp program for young players and teams includes physical conditioning, technical skills and tactical training taught by a highly experienced coaching staff.

PRINCIPLES AND PHILOSOPHY. Our soccer camps are designed to be a comprehensive soccer educational experience for all ages. We concentrate on helping our campers grow in the vital areas of the game. We believe that character is the most essential ingredient in competitive sport and life. We have therefore created a camp environment that offers moral support, team unity, and personal responsibility.

TECHNICAL. Technical training involves the learning of skills such as heading, dribbling, and shooting. Technical skills are discussed, demonstrated, and completed in one-on-one groupings. New or practiced skills are always followed by small-sided games.

TACTICAL. Tactical training deals with styles of play including aspects of attacking and defending. Tactical development is discovering how the game should be played in all of its phases. Tactical training teaches the player to make strategic decisions.

FUNCTIONAL. When you learn technical skills you must be able to put that knowledge or skill into practice. Our camp does that through specific small-sided games.

This is a rare opportunity for your entire team to be exposed to a challenging week with a dedicated trainer. We welcome both teams and individual players at all our camp locations.

PSYCHOLOGICAL. Sports psychology is the most understated and overlooked area in successful coaching. This is an area critical to a winning spirit. It covers attitude, interpersonal skills, team and individual responsibilities. Confidence building and leadership are emphasized in every session. This positive reinforcement motivates campers to develop a sense of excellence.

During our daily breaks, our campers are exposed to unique interpersonal games that promote self-confidence. We carefully supervise our breaks and encourage appropriate behavior at all times.

PHYSICAL CONDITIONING. Our preparation to play soccer includes aerobic, anaerobic, and plyometric conditioning.
